chwartz On Stand in FCC House Probe

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bernard Schwartz testified today at Federal Communications Commission hearing that Mack has acknowledged receiving several thousand dollars from an attorney for Miami television station, WTVT, fired as counsel to a special House subcommittee, told the subcommittee that the money was paid to Mack after he became a member of the FCC in the summer of 1955. Mack was one of four commissioners to vote to grant the hotly contested Channel 10 in Miami to Public Service Television, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of National Airlines. Schwartz said the money was paid to Mack in several checks by Thurman A. Hiteside, a Florida attorney who had been retained by Public Service for work in connection with its television application.

Exiled Former President Of Cuba and Eight Others Indicted for Conspiring

New York, (AP)—Carlos Prío Socarras, exiled former president of Cuba, and eight others were indicted today by a federal grand jury for conspiring to set on foot and provide means and money with which to take part in military expeditions and enterprises from the United States against Cuba. The former Cuban head, now in Miami, was charged with the others with conspiring to organize committees and groups to effectuate the organization of military units and also with recruiting persons to establish military training camps in the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Haiti and the United States. The nine also are charged with causing the purchase of motor ships and causing the vessels to sail from the United States with arms, men, uniforms and implements of war. The indictment was opened before Judge Edward Weinfeld, who issued warrants for the defendants at the request of William F. Tompkins, assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's internal security division.

GOP Will Accept $100,000 Raised At Texas Dinner

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Two legislators quarreling over Republican efforts to capture control of Congress say they'll accept $100,000 raised by a Texas party dinner, although they deplore methods used to drum up the contributions. However, there was a possibility the money might stay in Texas. Sen. Schoepel (R-Kan.) and Rep. Richard Simpson (R-Pa.) said the party groups they head will not be governed by a refusal of the Republican National Committee to use any of the money raised at the $100-a-plate dinner in Houston. Schoepel and Simpson are chairmen of GOP campaign committees in their respective houses. A political hubbub has resulted from a letter written by H. J. Porter, Texas Republican national committeeman, linking the dinner Monday night to efforts to pass the controversial natural gas bill. The affair was advertised as an (Turn to Page Fourteen).

Shattering Defeat Offered at Polls y Conservatives

London, (AP)—A shattering feat in an election to fill a vacancy in Commons today over supporters of Britain's Conservative government. The waning popularity of the conservative rulers headed by Prime Minister Macmillan was hinted up dramatically in the 19th England textile city of Chisle. The Conservatives ran a poor road to both the opposition Labour party and the normally lukewarm Liberals. Final returns gave Laborite Sir McCann 22,133 votes, Liberal Ludovic Kennedy 17,603 and Conservative John Parkinson 9,827. Conservative leaders had been reconciled in advance to loss of election, but the magnitude of the defeat came as a surprise.

New Freeze Warnings Issued for Some Areas of Florida

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A heavy blanket of snow spread in the South today and the other Bureau issued freeze warnings for Florida. Fair and much colder this afternoon and tonight, said the other Bureau at Miami, where temperatures were expected to drop 34 to 38 along the water front and 29 to 33 in farming areas. Warren Johnson, meteorologist of the Federal - State Frost Warning Service at Lakeland, said all precautions should be taken for all growing plants in citrus. This is going to be a very early night in all areas," he said. A grim warning to a state which has been blasted by repeated cold since mid-December, no millions of dollars worth of citrus and vegetables were lost, and cattle have died and chilled lists have gone home.

THIRD GANG MEMBER TO BE SENTENCED
Calvin Marsh, 20, third member of the gang which burglarized Pine Woods Tavern, is scheduled to be brought to court for sentencing at 2 p. m. Friday. When Marsh's two compatriots went south to the penitentiary, he went north to the State Hospital for examination. He was brought back to county jail yesterday. Betting is that his sentence will approximate the minimum of two years in the pen handed his associates.

Baby Found on Rubbish Alive When Abandoned

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Coroner L. C. Gray of Washington County said today a baby found dead on a rubbish dump was alive when placed on the dump. Gray said an autopsy showed the infant was only two hours old when placed on the dump. Exposure was listed as the cause of death. Two brothers, Andrew and Frank Larkey of Wellsburg, W. Va., R.D. 1, discovered the body Tuesday on a little used dump near Eldersville in Jefferson Twp. State police are searching for the mother.

Famous Department Store Closing Doors

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Boggs & Buhl, one of Pittsburgh's oldest department stores, will close its doors permanently after 89 years as a landmark in the North Side section. The trend toward suburban living and the growth of shopping centers in outlying areas have cut deeply into the store's sales volume, directors said yesterday. Joseph F. Sprankle, Jr., president and general manager, said the store will close Saturday until Feb. 20 when a liquidation sale will start. Some 400 employees will be affected.

Attorneys Clash Over "Animosity" Toward Defendant

Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. this morning gave a "nominal" sentence of one day in jail to a defendant charged with assault after attorneys clashed over what was termed "personal animosity" toward the accused. Ned J. Zaffino, 25, of 712 West Fifth avenue, was ordered to spend one day in jail, pay costs of prosecution and perhaps "apologize for breaking the claimant's nose", though Judge Flick said he believed Zaffino's story of some "cowboy" driving which led up to the assault and battery charge. However, said the judge, that was no justification for striking a man that hard "as he sat in his car." According to testimony first given by Claimant Glen B. Fangborn, about 24, of Russell, he was driving down the Kiantone Road on the night of Feb. 19, 1957 when he came upon the slower moving Zaffino vehicle. Fangborn testified that Zaffino would not get over, even when he aimed his spot (Turn to Page Fourteen).

Frozen Lines Handicap At Tidouite Fire

Warren County firemen stopped holding their breath today as intense cold neared the end of its first week. There were three alarms. At United Refinery about 1:30 this morning, all borough equipment was alerted when an alarm came in from the new fluid catalytic cracking unit. However, fast work on the part of United employees had extinguished the blaze by the time firemen arrived. Robert Porter, refinery manager, said this afternoon that the flash fire resulted from a vapor leak at a valve flange. An employee doused the blaze with a steam hose and there was no damage. About noon today firemen were summoned to the Alan Loper residence at 7 Verbeck street. Witnesses said the upstairs of the frame dwelling was badly damaged by fire and smoke. Firemen were still on the job this afternoon as press time neared. Origin and damage had not yet been determined.

In Tidouite, the frame home of George Nelson on Kinneer street was reported to be almost "a total loss" about 1 p. m. today after burning for about an hour. First indications were that frozen water pipes were being thawed when "an explosion" ripped the dwelling. Tidouite firemen were hampered by frozen lines and river ice. Thermometers read minus 8 in Tidouite this morning. A mutual aid call went out to Youngsville, Pleasant Township and Starbuck Volunteers. They arrived in time to save the George Tipton dwelling only 20 feet from the gutted structure, and the Tom Wilson residence, also nearby. All firemen urged householders to be extremely cautious.

Governor Faubus Revokes License Of the N.A.A.C.P.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus revoked the state franchise of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday. Two new reports of racial incidents came out of integrated Central High School. And Supt. Virgil Blossom recommended the expulsion of a Negro girl from the trouble-ridden school. He said she violated an agreement not to fight back against white students' harassment. Faubus signed a proclamation taking the NAACP and about 300 other corporations off the roll of chartered organizations because they failed to pay 1957 franchise taxes by a Feb. 1 deadline. His action had the effect of dissolving the NAACP in Arkansas. Under a 1953 state law, the NAACP could regain its franchise by paying delinquent taxes and applying for reinstatement.

Seep Cuts Price of Coming Grade Crude

Oil City, Pa., (AP)—For the second time in a month South Penn Oil has reduced the price of Corning grade crude oil. The firm's Joseph Seep Purchasing Agency yesterday announced an immediate five-cent reduction, making the new price $2.72 a barrel. Last month a 13-cent per barrel cut was made. The firm said the reduction was made to bring the price of the Ohio-produced Corning grade crude into line with the price of mid-western crudes. It emphasized that Pennsylvania grade crudes are not affected.

Plan to Spend $2,000,000 in State to Ease Unemployment Does Not Require New Taxes

BULLETIN
By GIB STALEY
Erie, (AP)—Sen. Joseph Clark (D-Pa.) said in a statement today that Pennsylvania's Congressional delegation is planning to ask President Eisenhower to order a speedup of federal public works programs of all kinds in Pennsylvania. The senator's statement was released as he stepped off a plane from Harrisburg with Gov. Leader who flew to Erie to direct the first of a series of regional conferences, designed to speed up the Leader administration's 200 million dollar crash employment program. The Leader program calls for expenditure of the huge amount on construction projects of all kinds within a 46-week period. An administration spokesman said Gov. Leader's program will not require an increase in taxes. By GIB STALEY
Erie, (AP)—Gov. Leader's plan to spend 200 million dollars in a 46-week crash program aimed at easing statewide unemployment will not require an increase in taxes, an administration spokesman emphasized today. The spokesman said the key point in the program will be a "coordinated effort by officials at local and state levels." His statement came shortly before Leader was to address the first in a series of regional conferences to explain his program. Approximately 500 persons from eight western Pennsylvania counties were expected for the first session.

U. S. Ambassador Confirms Tunisian Claims of Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. ambassador at Tunis reportedly has confirmed Tunisian claims of heavy civilian casualties in Saturday's French bombing of the village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef. State Department officials were studying the official dispatch, received from Ambassador G. Lewis Jones to determine whether any new action should be taken by this government. United States policy has been to try to get the Tunisian and French governments to settle their differences quickly. Hope for the success of this approach is dimming. If the argument over the bombing incident develops in the North Atlantic Council in Paris and in the United Nations, as authorities here fear it may, the United States may be compelled to take sides. This could mean a split with France or loss of cordial relations with Tunisia and further anti-American hostilities in some sections of the Arab world. Privately top officials believe the French made a bad blunder in bombing the village even though they claim it was a base for Algerian rebels operating across the nearby border.

AREA IS STILL IN GRIP OF COLDEST SNAP OF WINTER WITH NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

The coldest snap of the current winter settled over Warren County during the still of the night and temperatures as low as 22 degrees below zero were recorded. Weather Observer "Uncle Jim" Keler announced an official low of minus 10 degrees in the borough, coldest of the season and one degree colder than the minus 9 degrees of January 9th. Worst of the snap appeared to be reached in outlying areas shortly after 2 a. m. today. One woman of the Jackson Run area called this morning to report that at 2:30 a. m. this morning her water pipes froze while running. A pair of thermometers read minus 22 degrees. By dawn the mercury had risen a few notches. Elsewhere across the frigid landscape, these minus readings were reported: Mineral Well -20, Youngsville -18, Prospect Street -11, Shady Lawn -10, highway garage -10. For Warren County it was one of the coldest weeks in recent years. Highest temperature reading since Sunday has been 17 degrees above zero. That was on Tuesday. High Wednesday was 16 degrees and Sunday and Monday the high was a mere 13. But the wind has stopped. Hazy skies today were expected to bring a high for the week but forecasters were not yet predicting exactly when the cold mass would move on. The still air indicates a weather "high", meaning stable weather for some time to come.

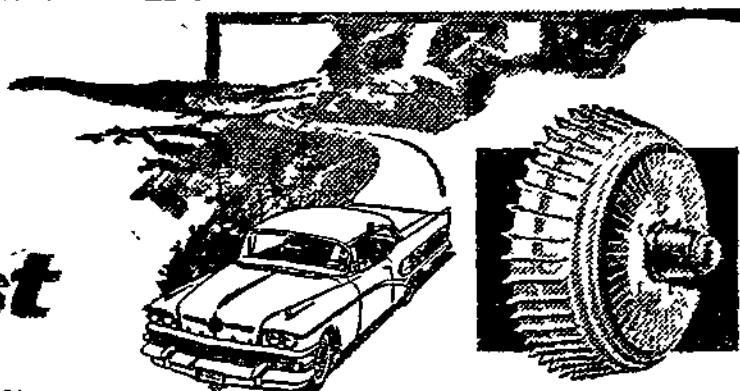

Democrats Are Drafting Ten-Point Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats are drafting a 10-point anti-recession program which party leaders plan to give a speedy start through Congress. The program is being put together by individual committees under the guidance of the Democratic Policy Committee headed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. It will represent the party's answer to demands that Congress act before the business slump gets worse. Johnson is understood to have told his colleagues that while he is opposed to a "gloom and doom" attitude, he thinks immediate steps must be taken to combat unemployment, which now has reached 4 1/2 millions. He has asked committees operating under Senators Fulbright (D-Ark.), Sparkman (D-Ala.), Anderson (D-NM), Hill (D-Ala.), Kerr (D-Okla.) and Gore (D-Tenn.) to come up speedily with legislative proposals to cover a wide field of government activity to bolster the economy. As Johnson views the program, it would shape up like this: 1. A comprehensive housing bill aimed at getting this limping industry going full blast. 2. Legislation to permit Federal Reserve banks to make loans to small businesses which certify they can't get credit in ordinary channels. 3. Passage of a post office construction bill. 4. Authorizations to put on extra shifts of workers on public works projects for which Congress has provided the money. 5. Construction of military housing in areas with soft spots of unemployment. 7. Action to start and speed up with extra shifts work on reclamation projects which have been authorized. (Turn to Page Fourteen)

February Dollar Days Will Continue Through Saturday

The annual February Dollar Day event opened this morning for a three day run in Warren and will continue Friday and Saturday for the convenience of area shoppers. Forty-six merchants have joined together in this event to make it especially attractive for all value-conscious and bargain-seeking men, women and children. In addition to the Dollar Day specials offered by the participating merchants, shoppers may register to be eligible for the drawings which determine winners of seven U. S. Savings Bonds. Two $25 bonds will be awarded at the close of business tonight, Friday and Saturday. And on Monday a final drawing will be made for the grand prize—a $100 savings bond. Shoppers can easily identify a participating store by the red and white banners in the windows. It's an easy matter, also, to sign one of the registration slips in any of the Dollar Day stores, drop it in a box, and be eligible for a prize. It is not necessary to be present at the drawings which will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office. The registration slips from each store are being collected each evening by messengers from the Chamber office. Winners of today's savings bonds will be announced in Friday's paper.

NEW YORK (AP)—Companies are pepping up their selling efforts today as a cure—for their own firm at least—for the recession.

They are wooing the consumer with promotions and gimmicks from trading stamps to discount-type price cuts. They are looking to the colleges to turn out more good salesmen—and egging on the ones they have to try harder.

They are making pleas to the buying public to keep the purse strings loose in everyone's interest. George P. Hitchings, manager of the economic analysis department of Ford Motor Co., says buying at the normal rate can keep the slump from going deeper.

They are planning conferences to convince consumers they should upgrade their eating, clothing and housing standards.

Through their representatives they are urging Uncle Sam to come to their aid by cutting taxes to release more buying power and by increasing government spending.

In some ways it's an uphill job. In recruiting college students as salesmen there are a couple of snags. J. D. Staunton, director of training, headquarters staff, National Starch Products, Inc., says a survey of 31 colleges in 25 states shows that many college men look on a selling job not as a career but as a way to find out about a company in preparation for stepping into a management job.

College men also generally have wrong notions of what a salesman's job today includes, he says. Businessmen ought to help change this, he says.

Or take the efforts to get people to upgrade standards—meaning, buy more or spend more. Some 40 farm and food industry groups are meeting in Washington soon. Aim: to try to reverse the "rising consumer indifference to the necessity for an adequate and balanced diet."

Homer R. Davidson, president of the American Meat Institute and chairman of the planning committee for the conference, blames the trend on "food fads, self-prescribed diets and the American tendency to hurry and rush" which result in "meals lacking the nutrients essential for good health."

He says the conference is backed by farmers, processors, distributors and merchandisers. In some other lines that the selling is getting harder. Rising prices have a big part in this. But economists point out that there are other reasons.

For one, many consumers have had 10 years to buy the home and other gadgets denied them during the war. They might at ways want more of them, but their need may not be urgent.

And family needs change. The big baby crop of the 40's are entering the expensive school ages, with large families the style. Sending a boy to college takes a lot of discretionary spending money out of the family budget.

Today's salesmen, especially of durable goods, run up against this every day. A tax cut would make his job easier—but still not a cinch.

Area's Economic Characteristics Being Catalogued

A 90 page fact manual cataloging the area's economic characteristics is ready to be printed, according to progress report made last night at the annual meeting of the Warren County Development Association. Publishing of the manual will complete phase one of the Association's industrial development project.

The second part of the project will be the writing of a number of industry feasibility studies by the Arthur D. Little Company, Cambridge, Mass. The Association is studying proposals from the company and agreement is expected to be reached within the next few weeks.

Cost of preparing the fact manual and the feasibility reports is being partially paid for by the state of Pennsylvania which recently granted $4,269 to the Association for its work.

At last night's membership meeting held in the YMCA the Association elected its first regular board of directors to serve this year. The following were elected: Three-year terms, E. Leo Johnson, Youngsville, Charles Preston, Warren, and Ervin L. Rader, Sheffield; two year terms, T. G. Peterson, North Warren, Frank Saga, Sheffield, Robert Wilder, Warren; one year terms, C. E. Anderson, Sugar Grove, Krug Cyphert, Tidoute, and N. B. Matthews, Warren.

The directors will meet March 5th to elect officers and to make plans for a membership drive. The problem of finding suitable industrial sites was discussed and members were asked to survey their own communities in an effort to locate desirable areas which might be suitable for plant locations.

The daytime-only Franklin radio station will have call letters WFRZ and will operate with 500 watts power on a 1430 kilocycle frequency, it was announced yesterday by Robert H. Sauber. Mr. Sauber is manager and part owner of the Titusville station and is also a backer of the Franklin station. The studio and office will be located on the second floor of the H. T. Osburn and Co. building on the Franklin-Oil City road. The tower will be behind the building. Mr. Sauber said he plans to be station manager and expects to be on the air in late March or early April.

KEPLER HAS PLAN

According to a dispatch from Tionesta former Admiral Kepler Davis, now a state assemblyman, suggests a special session of the Legislature to speed payment of the $150-million bonus to Korean War veterans would provide a big impetus to receding business. "The 35,000 Korean veterans entitled to a bonus must form a sizeable part of the Commonwealth's reportedly 435,000 unemployed," Davis writes in the Forest Press. "Surely the unemployment veteran has more urgent need for money now than later." Voters have approved the bonus but the Legislature must pass an enabling act.

Commission Advises Care In Stocking of Wild Turkeys

According to the Weekly Newsletter issued by the Pennsylvania Game Commission the phenomenal increase in the population of Pennsylvanias wild turkeys during the 1940s resulted from the application of sound game management practices which combined with natural conditions to encourage the development and spread of the flock.

In the last few years a number of interested sportsmen's clubs have bought and released Eastern Wild Turkeys in areas where more of the birds were desired. In some instances the club-bought birds were healthy, wild stock; in others precautions were not taken to assure that the birds, sometimes reared under domestic conditions, would not carry disease into the range to eventually cause serious loss among the naturally-raised turkeys already there.

The state's wildlife people are somewhat concerned about any indiscriminate releasing of turkeys, though the motive behind the practice is admirable. Experience has shown that when wild turkeys come in contact with domestic poultry the introduction of disease into the wild flock may occur. The wildlife people point out that raising and releasing wild turkeys poses problems not present in the raising and releasing of ring-necked pheasants.

M. J. Golden, Executive Director of the Game Commission therefore recommends this solution that offers the desired precaution: The Commission will gladly provide the services of one of its game propagators to examine wild turkeys sportsmen intend to release, to determine first whether they are healthy birds. Such an action would eliminate the possibility of infecting the priceless flock already in the wild. This recommendation is made in the belief that sportsmen who will spend their money in the interest of their sport will cooperate. Certainly they have no intention of impairing the exceptional turkey hunting already available in the Commonwealth.

The executive Director points out, also, The Game Commission is now stocking additional areas of the birds' range with Eastern Wild Turkeys reared at the state Wild Turkey Farm. When a large population of these great birds became established in the better localities the state's turkeys were then liberated in the fringe areas. This was done in the hope the outlying coverts would eventually support more of the birds and spread the flock over additional territory, so that an increased number of hunters may enjoy turkey hunting success nearer home.

A.A.A. Worried Over Misuse Of Highway Trust Fund

The American Automobile Association has for some time been concerned about indications of misuse of highway tax receipts now going into the Highway Trust Fund.

So great was the concern of the AAA that at its recent annual meeting the delegates unanimously adopted the two following policies:

"PROTECTION OF HIGHWAY TRUST FUND.

"The American Automobile Association urges that Congress immediately take steps to protect the Highway Trust Fund against use for administrative expenses of any department or agency of the Federal Government except the Bureau of Public Roads, and against use of any money from the Trust Fund for any purpose other than highway construction. Furthermore, the taxes assigned to the Fund should neither be diminished in rate nor transferred to any other purpose."

AAA policy also contains the following declaration:

"FEDERAL AUTOMOTIVE EXCISE TAXES — Pending completion of the Federal study required under Section 210 of the Highway Revenue Act of 1956, the AAA supports the tax schedule of that Act."

The validity of AAA's concern was demonstrated by the proposals made in the president's budget message which recommended that money be taken from the Highway Trust Fund to (1) finance forest highways and public land roads (2) to pay for certain administrative expenses of the Treasury Department in connection with the handling of the Highway Trust Fund (3) to give the Labor Department $250,000 annually for the purpose of defraying administrative costs of that department in connection with the Bacon-Davis Act, and (4) to divert from the Highway Trust Fund receipts from the Federal excise tax on aviation gasoline and on tires used in all forms of aircraft.

The Executive Committee of the American Automobile Association, meeting in Washington, D. C., wishes to reiterate the position of the AAA with regard to this misuse of Highway Trust Fund money.

The Executive Committee points out that the Trust Fund is obviously going to prove inadequate to accomplish its original purpose of financing the cost of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways within 13 years.

The idea of using receipts from the excise tax on aviation gasoline and rubber for the improvement and reconstruction of air fields is completely unrealistic. It is agreed, of course, that new and extended air fields are essential with the coming of the jet age, but all these installations will require very high type and costly highway facilities connecting them with the communities they serve. A considerable part of the cost of such highway facilities is brought about by the need to serve traffic between air fields and the metropolitan centers. Thus, it seems altogether fitting and proper that taxes on aviation gasoline and rubber remain in the Trust Fund to take care of, in part at least, the added road costs thus created.

The study to establish the equitable allocation of the highway tax load as provided for in Section 210 of the Highway Revenue Act of 1956 is of paramount importance. Congress has directed that the results of this study be made available to them by March 1959. The Executive Committee can see no justification whatsoever for making changes in the provisions of the Highway Revenue Act of 1956 until that report is available.

The American Automobile Association considers the proposals in the budget message regarding the Highway Trust Fund an unwarranted raid on that fund, and expresses its vigorous objection.

TWO THINGS TO PONDER

According to Sam Dawson in his Associated Press business letter from New York today, Wall Street and Main Street have two things to ponder today. He lists them as follows:

1. Reassuring words from Washington that the slump is being watched and won't be allowed to get out of hand if the government can help it.

2. A flood of disturbing earnings reports from many industries and in its wake a number of cuts in dividend payments and many omissions.

Profits are the life blood of American business he says. Without them business firms not only can't grow; in time they must fold. A distressing number of small businesses have been doing just that.

Fortunately, with the great majority profits haven't turned to losses. It is a matter of shrinking profits.

Adding to the confusion, amidst the flood of bad reports, record earnings for 1957 pop up almost daily. Often they are reported by individual companies in industries which as a whole are reporting declines.

Steel is an example he points out. The two biggest companies made record profits last year. So high was their take that they outweighed the rest of the industry, where more than half reported declines and most others only slight advances. In some other industries the down trend in profits is more nearly uniform. Textile firms go on with their own recession. Mining and metal-working companies are almost unanimous in reporting declining earnings.

As a whole the machinery makers and the machine tool industry are off from 1956, reflecting the slowdown in the business expansion program. This also shows up in the earnings of building material suppliers, off about 15 per cent from the previous year.

For most makers of farm equipment the trend is downward. All meat packers reporting so far have shown drops, in some cases steep ones.

More than half of the chemical companies reporting have felt the profit margin squeeze, as have all but two companies in the paper and paper products industry.

Most oil companies report declines. The railroads' sad earnings song has been heard extensively in and out of Washington. All airlines reporting to date show sharply shrinking profits. So do some aircraft makers.

But a number of industries buoy up Wall Street's spirits. Retail companies reporting so far are in the main on the upgrade. For the group as a whole a 12 per cent gain is noted.

The old standbys, the utilities, are a comfort as usual. Only 13 out of the first 90 to report show any drop from a year ago. These regulated companies are as a whole showing a 6 per cent gain in profits over their 1956 returns.

Two industries are thought by some observers to be even profiting a little by the worries of other businessmen.

Tobacco companies show nice profit gains over the previous year. Makers of drugs without exception so far report gains. For the group as a whole they're up 14 per cent.

WELCOME CUSTOMERS

An editorial from The New York Times:

One of these days they will be going back to the woods to work for a living, but now the small woodpeckers, the Hairies and the Downies, are regular customers at the suet section of the bird-feeders. And welcome customers they are, with their immaculate plumage, their quizzical expression, their wary shyness, their bashfully awkward posture.

To the casual observer, Hairy and Downy appear to be big and little brothers, or sisters. Their markings are almost identical; black crown marked with red on the males, dark back, white chest and belly, black and white speckled wings. In form they are typical woodpeckers, with short legs, short stiff tail, round head, long chisel of a beak. And beady black eyes that see everything. The Hairy is about the size of a large robin, the Downy the size of a small bluebird.

The Downies are the more companionable birds, and for some reason more numerous. They are at home among the chickadees, the sparrows, the juncos. The Hairies are more self-conscious. A Hairy could not doubt put a bluejay to rout, if he were so inclined; but few Hairies show truculence. They come to feed, not to fight, and suet is what they want and need when winter closes its fist on the woodland. Come spring, though, even the earliest of spring days, and both Hairies and Downies will be at work on the trees in the yard, in the orchard, in the woodland, drilling and chiseling and extracting grubs and larvae. They are among the best friends the trees have. They are the woodland's insect exterminators, the winged pesticides, and a few bits of suet are small pay for their labor. But that's all they ask, and they ask differently.

"If You Need Some Extra Time, You May Have It"

Here and There

An exchange reminds that this week marks the 13th anniversary of an unique organization that has helped to restore sight to over 5,000 persons who were blind from corneal defects. It is recalled that the Eye Bank for Sight Restoration, Inc., was established in 1945; first organized eye bank in the world. As its objective and workings have become known, its potential field of usefulness has grown. More than twenty thousand persons now blind are waiting in hopeful expectation of being able to return to normal active lives in their communities when the number of good corneas in the "bank" is large enough to meet known needs. One of the purposes of National Eye-Bank Week is to publicize the nature and value of the program, and to stimulate support by encouraging interested persons to drop a postcard to the association (office, 210 East Tenth Street, New York City) for a copy of its booklet telling of the bank and its work and containing an eye donor pledge and identification card.

Presence of Lowell Thomas, Jr., on the TV quiz program "To Tell the Truth" reminds that he is one of eight Americans who have visited the mystical "roof-of-the-world," Tibet. The seventh and eighth were Lowell Thomas, Sr., and the younger explorer and lecturer. Today, despite the heroic last-minute efforts of the Thomases to prevent it—the iron curtain has descended around this fabulous Shangri-La. For the foreseeable future it will be sealed off as a potential Red fortress from which the Kremlin's killers may descend at will on covering India—to fan out over the rest of a bewildered Asia. But fellow Americans may still see this occult land through the eyes of the last American visitors when the Thomases' movie story of forbidden Tibet is televised in full color by General Motors on the CBS-TV network on Tuesday, February 25th from eight to nine p. m., EST. In the warm embrace of your favorite arm-chair you can make your way along the perilous caravan trail from the base of the world's highest peak, Mt. Everest, over the awesome Himalayas to the Tibetan capital. With these honored guests, you may visit the out-of-this-world monastery of the Dalai Lama, attended by 10,000 monks; witness this colorful Summer Festival; penetrate even into the Potala, the sacred "Palace of the Gods" with its more than a thousand rooms! For you, this ancient people will reveal their strange rites and customs, perform their exotic dances. How tragic these pictures may be in the light (or darkness) of subsequent events, no one knows. Whether or not they mark the swan-song of one of the most ancient and cultured of all civilizations can never be known while that iron curtain stands. But the Tibetan episode in "High Adventure with Lowell Thomas" constitutes the only—as well as the last—documentary film on an ageless, gentle and philosophical way of life. And perhaps, if you fear to do some soul-searching, you had better not see it.

Astute Kaiser Steamrolls His Dreams to Reality

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Most fantastic of Henry J. Kaiser's recent pipe dreams is "Dome Enterprises." Its four partners are probably the most impressive quartet of geniuses ever incorporated. They are Hollywood Producer Mike Todd of "Around the World in 80 Days" fame, former National Broadcasting President Pat Weaver, Frank Lloyd Wright the architect and Mr. Kaiser. Among the Kaiser vice presidents and junior executives they're known as "the cloud 69 boys"—all eight feet planted firmly off the ground. The product of Dome Enterprises is a hemispherical roof made of diamond-shaped curved aluminum panels. They are fastened together and raised on a central mast until they are built out to the circumferential foundations. Then the mast is taken down and out, leaving a pillarless dome which can be used as a pavilion, auditorium, theater, dance hall or whatever is your need.

The first one was built at Hawaiian Village Hotel. Many of the Kaiser engineers thought the idea was crazy and that the dome would cave. Mr. Kaiser didn't think so. When it stood up all right, they said the acoustics would be terrible. Mr. Kaiser didn't think so.

BUT INSTEAD OF borrowing one bugler to come in and play taps to test the echo, Mr. Kaiser hired the Hawaiian symphony orchestra. With a seating capacity of 1,500, the dome sold out. Without a rehearsal inside, the orchestra played. The acoustics were perfect.

All right, they told the old man. But wait till you get a show in there and it rains. The noise on that aluminum roof will drown out the show. Mr. Kaiser didn't think it would.

So he billed a full show and hired the Honolulu fire department to come play their hoses on it. Mr. Kaiser right again.

Mike Todd got into the business when Mr. Kaiser booked "Around the World" for Hawaiian Village dome. There was a long battle with zoning authorities and other theater owners beforehand.

Pat Weaver got into the business after American Broadcasting Company sold Mr. Kaiser on the "Maverick" show idea for Sunday night TV as promotion for all Kaiser industries.

Operating heads of many of these companies wanted no part of this package at first. Mr. Kaiser had to beat down their opposition and assign quota costs of a million dollars to this company, that and some others to get started.

But the show, lapping Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan half an hour each, has had good audience ratings. And all the Kaiser executives are its boosters now, clamoring for time on its air.

INDUSTRIALLY, MR. KAISER'S great new interest is the "mechanical mule" which Willys Overland is developing for Army Ordnance and Air Force.

It's a four-wheel steer and drive weapons carrier. It weighs only 900 pounds, will carry 1,000 pounds at 30 miles an hour. It is easily transported by plane and can be parachuted. The 101st Airborne Division has already been equipped with them and other units soon will be.

Mr. Kaiser sees the mechanical mule as the first of a whole new family of military vehicles. The idea in building them is that if you can't fly it there in the next war, it won't get there. One of the new models is a fantastic six-wheel-drive-and-steer job.

Not every Kaiser enterprise has been a success, of course. The Kaiser-Frazer automobile venture was a dismal flop. But out of it came the merger with Willys, which is building the new Army vehicles.

So far, Kaiser industries have not gone into missile age developments except for some launching platforms being built by Kaiser Engineers and Bomarc components from Kaiser Metal Products.

Class Honors Teacher

At the annual banquet of the May R. Stone Group of First Presbyterian church, held at the YWCA Monday evening, 28 members, with Rev. and Mrs. Donald H. Spencer and Mrs. Alexander C. Flick Jr., as guests, enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner served by Bill and Irene Proukou. The table, decorated in keeping with the Valentine theme, included miniature place cards with a picture of Mrs. May R. Stone, teacher, with the dates 1918-1958.

Mrs. Bernice Seavy reviewed events of the past 20 years and read roll call of members at that time. For the last nine years on Mother's Day, flowers have been placed in the church for departed members, Aileen Ness, Marjory Hamm, Florence Rowland, Bess Stone, Edythe Somers, Mabel Brasington, Ethel Hodges and Hazel Thurston.

Class projects have been missions, deacons, children's home and assistance in church work. Rev. Spencer talked informally, stating he hopes the group will go forward in its work and good fellowship, and brought greetings from the church for the anniversary.

Growing up with this group and daughter of Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Flick used the theme "I Remember Mama" for her reminiscences. It was recalled that at a picnic held last summer, the group enjoyed having Letal Peterson, Edythe Hultberg, Mattie Snyder and Martha Plummer as guests.

A summer wedding is planned.

YOUNGVILLE BPW ASSISTING LIBRARY
YOUNGVILLE — President Mary Teonchuk was in charge of the February meeting of Youngville Business and Professional Women's Club, held in the National Forge clubhouse at Irvine. The library committee reported arrival of some of the books selected to fill club shelves in the public library, and it was decided to aid a Youngville High School student with the College Fund.

After the business session, Mrs. Duncan, RN, of Warren, showed a heart film and Dr. J. T. Valone, also of Warren, talked on different types of heart diseases and care of persons so afflicted. Helen Piper was in charge of program arrangements; hostesses for refreshments were Miss Piper, Ora Schnell and June Carroll.

PRE-SCHOOL CLUB
The Pre-School Child Study Group held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Danford Lord, 313 Oneida avenue, with plans made for the annual dinner to be held in May in the Penn-Laurel dining room. Guest for this month's meeting was Mrs. Howard Andersen, who talked interestingly on "Music and Small Children." In conclusion, refreshments were served by the committee, Barbara Dudick, chairman, with Betty Levine and Alice Wheatall.

The Mature Parent

Loss of Parent by Divorce Is Confusing Pain to Child

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

BERT has found it especially hard to accept his parents' divorce. One evening he was trying to assemble a model plane someone had sent him. In the paper diagram, part D fitted perfectly into part E, but Bert's part D was too wide to fit E's slot. Noticing his worried look, his mother offered help and on his suggestion tried to insert part D into part E herself. Failing, she said, "I guess you'll have to whittle it down to fit."

Bert snatched the parts from her, shouting, "There's something I'm not doing right! Gosh, I wish Daddy were here! He'd find out what I was doing wrong."

His mother laid her hand on his head. He jerked away. After a moment, she left him. As she picked up her dishmop, she thought, "Oh, Lord, I miss Jim. I miss him so terribly."

BUT almost at once this awareness of pain disappeared, and she began to smolder with her customary feelings of bitterness.

This is always happening to divorced parents. Something occurs to make us aware of our grief at the loss of love. Then we begin to remember the penalties the loss involves and are overwhelmed by secondary feelings of resentment. It is this process that makes divorce so hard on children. It leaves them alone with their grief. They can't tell us about it because they think we don't feel it. Like Bert, they can accept no comfort from the person who's a stranger to their pain. So they protect it with a fierce and lonely sense of privacy and jerk away when we try to come close to them.

SO at these times it is good to retain hold of our own original sadness and be able to say to Bert, "I miss Daddy, too. I am even sadder than you are that we can't live together."

The child who loses his father to death doesn't experience the conflict of the child who loses him to divorce. That is because he knows we share his pain. We help him retain his loving image of his absent parent. But in divorce he has to struggle against our bitter image to retain his loving one. This is the real source of his confusion. Whether we lose love to life or to death, we are very foolish to deny our grief at its going.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF FORMER RESIDENTS
The family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, of Fisher, will hold open house at the family home Saturday, February 22, in observance of their golden wedding anniversary. The hours will be from two until four and seven until ten, and all are welcome. The Whites, former residents here, have three children living in Warren: Mrs. Robert A. Songer, 207 North South street; Mrs. Melvin Bines, 336 East Fifth avenue; and Foster Biers, 222 North Carver street. Mr. White was formerly employed at Library Theatre and he and his wife have many friends in the area.

Legion Auxiliary Plans Activities
At the regular meeting of Chief Complanter American Legion Auxiliary, held Tuesday evening in the Legion Home, members were reminded this is their only session for February, the next to be March 11, with Mrs. Sidney Blackman, legislative chairman, in charge of the program.

Members were also asked to keep in mind the Washington's Birthday dinner-meeting with Post members February 22 and were urged to secure their tickets early. In the president's absence, Vice President Betty Scalse conducted the business session. A contribution to the Youth Ambassador Fund was voted; Miss Hill sent a note of thanks to Edith Krespan, Florence Schatzle and Florine Larson, who spent a day at the Home, cleaning cupboards.

Effie Speidel read an article appropriate to Americanism Month, which is observed in February. It was emphasized that re-reading of American history should inspire all good citizens and make them better citizens in a time when good Americans are needed as never before.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Leroy Meeder, Mrs. Leah Smith and Mrs. Ella Wallace.

President Robert McCoy conducted the February meeting of St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher Unit, when it was decided a bake sale will be held after the last three Masses on Feb. 23. Members are requested to have baked goods brought to the school basement February 22 between 7:00 and 8:00 p. m. A ham party was announced for February and March.

The March meeting will be in the form of a tureen dinner, with Rose Fadale, chairman; Marian Martin, co-chairman. Following dinner, a White Elephant sale will be conducted, each member to bring a 50-cent gift.

Proceeds of the January dance were announced and turned over to the treasurer. Tentative plans for the Music Festival conducted by Mrs. Potter were announced for the last week in April.

In conclusion, refreshments were served by Ann Slate and her committee.

GUIDANCE GROUP

Pre-School Guidance Group members met in the YWCA activities building Tuesday evening to make dressings for the Cancer Center. Mina Rieder, Cancer unit executive, expressed her appreciation to the mothers after a final count showed the 18 persons present had folded 27 dozen of the neat gauze rectangles.

In the absence of the president, a brief business session was conducted by the vice president, Mrs. David Olson. Roller-skating enthusiasts signed up to join another Mothers' Club for a party at the Russell Rink March 3. Concluding, a most attractive lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. George Boyer, Mrs. Richard Shattuck, Mrs. Al-an Sampson and Mrs. Russell Lyle.

Lipstick Can Be Biggest Asset

The art of applying lipstick is just exactly that. It requires patience and practice to achieve a natural-looking, smooth and "flattering" lipline. First step in applying lipstick with a brush is to outline (left) the upper lip. This outline need not follow the natural outlines of your mouth. With a brush, you can create the outline most becoming to you. Now, fill in the very pleasant occupation. And the result can be truly satisfying if the job is well done. Approach the task as though you were an artist beginning a painting. After all, you are using paints, and the completed picture will be the face you show to the world.

APPLYING make-up can be a

Make-up cleverly applied will enhance your best features and distract attention from those that are less than perfect. Lipstick, particularly, should be handled with care, for when used with a slap and dash, it can make a caricature of even the prettiest face. No matter how unattractive you may think your mouth, you can make it lovely. For the key to improving on nature is the right shade of lipstick, perfectly applied.

Before using lipstick, be sure your lips are dry and that all traces of old lipstick are removed. Use of a lip brush will give you a clearer outline. But whether you use a brush or the lipstick itself, start with the upper lip, moving from the center to the outer edges of the mouth. Make the curves slightly rounded, with each bow directly under each nostril.

Draw the lower lip in an even, smooth curve. Then open your mouth in the shape of an "O" and connect the color on both lips with your brush or lipstick.

If your lips are too thin, work just a little outside your lipline for a fuller look. If they are too full, work a bit inside the lipline.

Your lipstick will last longer if you let it set after the first application, blot it, dust your lips lightly with powder and apply a second coat of lipstick.

Helena Rubinstein, one of the world's foremost cosmetic authorities, believes that every woman should own four to six different shades of lipstick to blend with her various costumes and her natural coloring.

Now that decorative lipstick cases have been added to fashion accessories, and lipsticks can be switched from one case to another, you can take the right shade and the appropriate case with you wherever you go.

You can get these convertible cases for every occasion—some beautifully jeweled for formal wear, others simply styled in black or gold for business use, and pretty pastels for summer and resort wear. They're easy to use, too. You can change your lipstick from one case to another in a jiffy.

Why not equip yourself with an adequate lipstick wardrobe?

And, above all, practice applying your lipstick carefully. Remember that the right shade of lipstick, correctly applied, can be one of your biggest beauty assets.

FOR 13 YEARS SHE'S BATTLED POLIO, AND---

At One Cherished Dime, She Feels She's Well Paid

BY AILEEN SNOODY

NEA Staff Correspondent

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (NEA)

—After 13 years of helping to scrape $400,000 together to fight polio, Nancy Greene will get a dime for her service.

It won't be just any "little old" dime, as she might say in a charming southern drawl. This one will carry an aura of posh parties, white mink and cellophane-wrapped sports cars. And also reflect the smiles of polio-ridden youngsters aided by the Miami Birthday Ball through the years.

On Feb. 6, in the plush L'Aiglon supper club, Mrs. Robert Z. Greene will receive a silver, ebony-mounted "Roosevelt dime" from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—the first time this award has gone to a local-level volunteer.

It will be a first and last event for the 300 "carefully culled" guests in Miami Beach. For this is the swan song of a gay high society party which mixes fun with fund-raising.

MRS. GREENE, wife of a New York industrialist, is a winter resident who takes her community responsibilities seriously. Asked in 1945 to "lend a hand" in the Miami March of Dimes campaign, she stepped in and has been up to her neck in polio fund raising since.

"I did it for two reasons," she explained. "Like other women throughout the country, I was scared to death for the children, and for my own two nieces (then 7 and 9 years old), whom I was raising. Then, too, I have never felt like a 'winter vacationist' in

On volunteer duty at Miami's Variety Children's Hospital, Mrs. Robert Z. Greene feeds Lucy Torres, 4-year-old polio victim.

Miami. Or that I had any less community responsibility than year-round residents."

Raising money without conflicting with other March of Dimes activities led to the present social flutter over the ball. It was limited to 300 guests, "because the biggest affairs aren't always the biggest money-makers."

Next came a gimmick to "painlessly get more money from people who already made substantial contributions to the polio drive."

What better way is there to excite any crowd than an auction? On the society auction block on ball night go French poodles (up to $8,000), the sports cars, minks and other knick-knacks that would make many exclusive Fifth Avenue shops look like bargain basements.

In the last 11 years, about 25 of these poodles have found good homes and raised approximately $85,000 for the polio drive. Which Mrs. Greene explains with, "I never knew anyone who would pay $3,000 or $4,000 for a dog unless he loved dogs."

Two of these poodles now romp about the Greene's three homes—in Miami Beach, Darien, Conn., and New York City. "Johnny," incidentally, brought the top auction price of $8,000 and was a gift to her.

Caught up in the whirl of ball plans, she clears her social calendar from November "until all the checks are in hand." She relaxes in decorating her home—"a different decor for each." And she is called a good cook by those who have been guests at her table.

CALLED A DYNAMO by many, Mrs. Greene lends a hand to many worthwhile projects. When swept into the Miami polio campaign, she also was active in the Red Cross, National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Miami Opera Guild.

She also is a trustee of the University of Miami Symphony Club, co-chairman of the Miami Guild Opera Ball and works with the George Junior Republic in New York City. The latter helps emotionally disturbed children.

Mrs. Greene points out that the ball isn't the end of the need for polio funds.

"Money is still urgently needed to care for the thousands of polio patients—approximately 57,800 at the end of 1957, including 4,800 new cases—and for research and trained manpower."

No doubt she would be the first to drop her cherished time in the kitty—to kick off a new fund campaign.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

By JACK RUTLEDGE

MEXICO CITY (B)—Bullfighting is at a low ebb in Mexico. Tourists are about the only ones who get very excited about what's going on in the bullrings nowadays.

Experts blame the situation mainly on lack of real talent among the matadors, and the poor quality of the bulls themselves. But there are other factors: Mexico has some top-notch prizefighters now who receive the adulation once reserved for matadors. It has baseball, soccer, American football, jai alai, and other sports. Back in the 1920s bullfighting was the major sport. It got so bad the government banned bullfight talk by employees while on the job.

But the great Rodolfo Gaona retired, and interest sagged. With the master gone, bullfighting just wasn't the same. A youngster named Armillita came along and fans caught fire again. But during his period of popularity, prizefighting gained in favor. Football became a major sport, and there were more and more movies to lure the scarce pesos away from the bullring.

The great Manolete, a Spaniard, brought bullfighting back to its almost fanatic enthusiasm in the 1940s. He fought often in Mexico where he was paid as much as

News About Your Income Tax

Parents of children under 19 years of age or of students who had or have part-time jobs, may still be entitled to claim these children as dependents on their Federal Income Tax returns.

According to John H. Binger, District Director of Internal Revenue, many parents are unaware of the change in the tax law which relaxed the regulations concerning part-time earnings of children.

Mr. Binger explained that prior to 1954, no person earning $600 or more could be claimed as a dependent by another person. As a result many parents were careful to have their children stop work when the child's earnings neared the $600 mark. The Director pointed out, however, that under the 1954 Act, children under 19 or those who qualify as full-time students, can be claimed as dependents by their parents, regardless of the amount of the child's earnings, so long as the parent furnished more than one-half of the cost of the child's support.

In such cases, however, the parent may be called upon to submit evidence of the amount contributed to the child's support.

Mr. Binger emphasized that even though the child is claimed as a dependent by the parents, he must file his own return if his earnings are $600 or more. Those who earn less than $600 should also file a return to obtain a refund of the tax withheld.

Mr. Binger said that any parents having questions regarding these situations should call their local Internal Revenue Office for further information.

Co. Motor Club Represented at State Conference

More than 100 delegates from the 57 American Automobile Association motor clubs in Pennsylvania are in Harrisburg, this week, to attend the AAA-Pennsylvania Motor Federation's annual Secretaries' and Managers' Conference at the Penn-Harris Hotel.

Among those attending the meeting from the Warren County Motor Club will be D. E. Schuler, it was announced today by President.

Prominent speakers during the three-day meeting will include John S. Giles, of Reading, president of PMF, and Russell E. Singer, executive vice president of the American Automobile Association, Washington, D. C.

The 1958 conference, which will be formally opened by Charles E. Pugh, secretary-manager of PMF, will be characterized by a series of workshop sessions. Delegates will participate in panel and clinic discussions of subjects ranging from electronic speed measuring devices to modern management methods. In addition, the conference will provide club managers and secretaries an opportunity to discuss problems of mutual concern.

Club representatives will also be given an opportunity to meet with State and National AAA officials during the annual banquet on Friday evening, February 14. A vaudeville program and dance will terminate the days activities.

Members of the conference planning committee are: W. K. S. Hershey, White Rose Automobile Club, chairman; Frank D. Horst, Palmyra - Lebanon County Automobile Club; Harry M. Matthews, Valley Automobile Club; Robert E. McPeak, Wilkesburg Automobile Club; and William E. Miller, AAA Motor Club of Harrisburg.

The federation, organized in March, 1906, with less than 1,000 members, now is the largest state association of AAA clubs in the country, with a membership in excess of 590,000.

NOT FIRED - Bernard Schwartz, controversial chief counsel of the House Interstate Commerce subcommittee, arrives to testify before the group which is investigating government regulatory agencies. Earlier the subcommittee, by a 6-5 vote, downed a move to fire Schwartz who has been charged with padding his expense.

PROTEST - Tunisian Ambassador Mongi Slim ponders a newsman's question after lodging a strong protest in the United Nations against France's bombing of a frontier village in his country. French warplanes blasted Sakiet Sidi Youssef in an attack which killed over 70 natives and injured more than 100. The French say the attack was to wipe out an anti-aircraft emplacement which had damaged one of their planes.

stormy evening, only a brief meeting was held in the school auditorium to make further plans for a Teen-Age Club. All pupils of the Junior-Senior High school in Sugar Grove borough and township, with their parents, are invited to attend another meeting in the school auditorium at 7:30 p. m. Friday to perfect an organization.

Further information concerning plans may be had from Kaye Storms, publicity chairman, or the committee, Richard Hiles, David Wright and Scott Stuart, Jr.

Reports from Jamestown General Hospital regarding Melinda and Mary Lyford, seriously injured in an accident on the Bust-Sugar Grove road Saturday afternoon, indicate both are making satisfactory recovery. Melinda received a broken leg, broken nose, severe cut on the back of her head, and other injuries. Mary suffered a lacerated tongue, chest injuries, cuts and bruises. Local Volunteer Firemen had their regular meeting Monday night, President Roy Christenson presiding. Reports showed five alarms and one resuscitation call since last meeting. Announcement was made of a Red Cross first aid class beginning February 25, also that anyone interested may contact Perry Wilcox. Attention was called to the annual banquet February 22 in the American Legion Home, also to the county meeting at Sheffield this Thursday evening. Lunch was served by Harold Dobson.

Ernest Landin was honored with a party at his home Sunday in celebration of his 76th birthday anniversary. Dinner included a decorated birthday cake and the honored one received nice gifts. Guests included Florence Landin, Jamestown; Lillian Landin, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Allenson and family, and Mabel Reese.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manross are home after spending a month in Tucson, Ariz., where they were guests of his brother, and in San Diego, Calif., where they visited the Harold Taylor family, former residents here. They also enjoyed a trip into Mexico.

Subject for Rev. James M. Fisher's sermon at 11:00 a. m. Sunday in the Presbyterian church will be "Balanced Living."

WARMING BY THE FIRE—An incongruous sight is this man warming himself by burning crates with the towers of Manhattan in the background. The New York temperature dropped to about 10 degrees.

Some Economists Decline To Agree With Ike on "Boom"

NEW YORK (AP)—Some economists declined to go along today with President Eisenhower's forecast the beginning of the end of the business slump will come in March.

Dr. Jules Bogen of New York University declared: "I have the fear it isn't going to be that easy. Our economy has been weakened by a very prolonged boom and by great increases in debt."

Retail economist A. W. Zelomok said: "I would say the low point in general business will be reached within the next several months. However, the upturn will not be as rapid as in 1954. This will be especially true as regards employment."

Dr. Marcus Nadler, economist of the Hanover Bank and New York University, said: "I doubt if you'll see any increase in manufacturing employment in March. So far the government has been talking but not doing anything. Talk does not produce orders."

Layoffs and cutbacks were reported today in the chemicals and oil industries, but one electronics firm planned to increase its wage force.

The developments came in the wake of layoffs and furloughs by railroads, airlines, aircraft manufacturers, auto, metal, glass and rubber companies. The jobless climbed to nearly 4 1/2 million last month, a sharp rise since the end of World War II.

International Minerals & Chemical Corp. said it was cutting back by 10 per cent the work week at its potash division at Carlsbad, N.M. for February.

Cities Service Co. said it was reducing by 8 per cent its total refinery runs of crude oil because of oversupply. The principal reduction of 20,000 barrels a day will be at the Lake Charles, La. refinery, largest in the Cities Service system.

Stromberg-Carlson, Division of General Dynamics Corp., expects to boost its employe rolls to 10,000 by the end of the year. Robert C. Tait, Stromberg president said today. The division currently has 7,700 workers.

Chesapeake & Ohio Railway said it would lay off 1,000 employees by Feb. 24 because of declining traffic.

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is furloughing an undisclosed number of clerical workers.

Curtiss-Wright Corp. in Wood Ridge, N.J., said a union estimate of about 650 employees to be laid off between Feb. 1 and Feb. 15 at its Wright Aeronautical Division was "substantially correct."

E. I. du Pont de Nemours announced today it was laying off 190 nylon workers.

Trans World Airlines furloughed 80 copilots, effective Saturday, in a move to tighten up the organization. The action followed a lay-off of copilots by American Airlines in December.

In the auto industry, Ford closed its assembly plant at Mahwah, N.J., this week to balance dealer inventories.

Studebaker-Packard Corp. again shut assembly operations in South Bend, Ind. The plant has only worked three full weeks so far this year.

Lagging car production has hurt other fields. In Toledo, Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co. laid off 600 workers. Since Jan. 1, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. has dropped 557 employees.

RADIO and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Producers of Wide World (NBC-TV) have undertaken some dangerous assignments in their time, but none has quite equaled that of Ted Rogers in preparing "The House in Webster Groves" for next Sunday afternoon.

His hazardous mission: to get a Hollywood movie star in her 40s to discuss the problems and rewards of middle age—the theme of "The House in Webster Groves."

"I never saw so many slammed doors in my life," says Rogers. "I thought one former movie queen was going to crown me with her Oscar."

Wide World, which seeks to illustrate its themes largely in terms of people, felt that a former star—whose career has been built on youth and beauty—could tell dramatically of problems and adjustments that come with the passage of years.

Rogers said that the only Hollywood star willing to cooperate in the project was Maureen O'Sullivan, the attractive Irish actress who played Tarzan's mate and who now is married to director John Farrow and the mother of seven children.

"Maureen has the most wonderful philosophy about the middle years," Rogers said. "She told us: 'It's hard, perhaps, for a woman to grow up. But you're helped by a new kind of wisdom. You get on better terms with yourself. Even about your looks you reach an accommodation with yourself—they could be better, they could be worse, and on the whole you're grateful.'"

"I won't comment on that at this time. I think the Buffalo fans have been built up and then let down too many times and I wouldn't want to do it again."

Buffalo Anxious To Land Team in the N.F.L.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A stadium holding 44,000 people at a rental of $1,000-a-game awaits any National Football League club owner who wants to move to Buffalo this year.

This offer was made in writing yesterday to NFL Commissioner Bert Bell by the city. The letter was signed by Parks Commissioner Patrick C. McGroder, Mayor Frank A. Sedita and the leaders of both parties in the City Council.

The prime local candidate is the Pittsburgh Steelers but hopes here were dashed on this score last night by Pittsburgh owner Art Rooney.

From his farm home in Sykesville, Md., Rooney said "right now our status remains the same—we'll play in Pittsburgh in 1958."

Asked if the Steelers might play a split schedule—three games in Pittsburgh, three in Buffalo—Rooney said:

"I won't comment on that at this time. I think the Buffalo fans have been built up and then let down too many times and I wouldn't want to do it again."

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW (AP News Analyst)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some people cut their throats once, and that's enough. But the natural gas people are beginning to make a hobby of it.

They spend a lot of money trying to get through Congress a natural gas bill which will free them of government price control and mean millions for them.

Then, by primitive tactics, they wreck their chance. They did that in 1956. In Texas this week they just about ruined any hope for passage of a gas bill this year.

They were going well in 1956, with President Eisenhower favorable toward a natural gas bill and the Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress behind it.

Then suddenly Sen. Case (R-SD) shocked the country by telling the Senate some lawyer he didn't know had dropped $2,500 into his re-election campaign fund. And Case said he thought it was done to influence his vote on the bill.

Democrats and Republicans teamed up anyway to pass the bill. But by now there was an odor from this piece of gas legislation and Eisenhower vetoed it.

After a Senate investigation of Case's charges, two lawyer-lobbyists — John M. Neff and Elmer Patman, both employed by the Superior Oil Co. of California, pleaded guilty in court to lobbying without registering as lobbyists.

After the 1956 disaster, with no action in 1957, a new try was to be made this year. On Monday night Rep. Joseph Martin, House Republican leader, was given a $100-a-plate dinner in Houston, Tex. Martin was the speaker at what he said was "just another one of those Republican fund-raising dinners."

It was put on by H. J. (Jack)

Voting Record of Republicans To Be Used by Dems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Self-styled Democratic liberals made it clear today they will be prepared to cite the Republican voting record on the natural gas bill both in Congress and in the fall election campaign.

Both proponents and opponents of the controversial measure agreed, however, that the bill's chances of passage were lessened by the furor over a Texas group's tying support of the measure to a Republican fund-raising dinner.

Texas Republicans raised $100,000 Monday night through a $100-a-plate dinner in Houston, advertised as an appreciation dinner for House Republican Leader Martin (Mass.). H. J. Porter, Texas Republican national committeeman, urged contributors to purchase tickets because, he said in a letter, Martin had helped to pass a natural gas bill in 1955 and would need to muster support of 65 per cent of the GOP members to pass the bill this year.

Both the White House and the Republican National Committee disavowed any connection with the appeal and the national committee said it would accept none of the money. Porter and other Texas party officials said they did not know what would be done with the proceeds.

Martin said he also knew nothing in advance about the gas bill's connection with the dinner, which he said he considered "just another one of those Republican fund-raising dinners."

The gas measure would remove producers from direct control of the Federal Power Commission, but would continue FPC regulation over interstate pipelines. It is generally favored in gas producing areas, but opposed by many major consuming areas, including many large cities.

While most supporters and critics of the measure thought the current publicity would kill it, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said the bill will be called up in the House late this month.

Martin said he is still for the gas bill and will support it when it comes to the floor.

AT AREA MEETING

Robert R. Whitehill and James N. Francis, both elders in First Presbyterian church, will represent the local unit of Presbyterian Men at the Eastern Area meeting of the National Council in New York City Friday through Sunday noon. They will join nearly 200 laymen and clergymen of western Pennsylvania in discussions concerning Men's activities and hear addresses by outstanding Christian leaders in the nation's business, government, education field and church.

ARMY ENLISTEES

Word is received from two Russell young men, recently enlisted in the Army, concerning their assignments. Keith Rosendahl, son of Mrs. Avis Rosendahl, is at Ft. Jackson, S. C.; Ronald Tubbs, grandson of Mrs. Dorothy Scott, has reported to Ft. Dix, N. J.

Porter, Republican national committeeman and an Eisenhower supporter from away back.

But the Washington Post brought to light a letter written by Porter Jan. 30 to boost the sale of tickets for the dinner.

The letter said it would be up to Martin, described as a friend of the bill, "to muster at least 65 per cent of the Republican votes in order to pass the gas bill this year." And the letter added: "The dinner must raise substantial amounts of money for the Republican party as part of these will go towards the election of Republican congressmen and senators." The Post estimated the dinner raised $100,000.

After this letter appeared in the Post Tuesday, the Eisenhower administration and the Republican party leadership began denying any knowledge of it. Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerly said no one at the White House had known.

Meade Alcorn, Republican national chairman, said the same plus this: "The Republican National Committee will not accept any funds from the proceeds of the Houston dinner."

Martin, too, denied any knowledge of the letter but said he would vote for the bill.

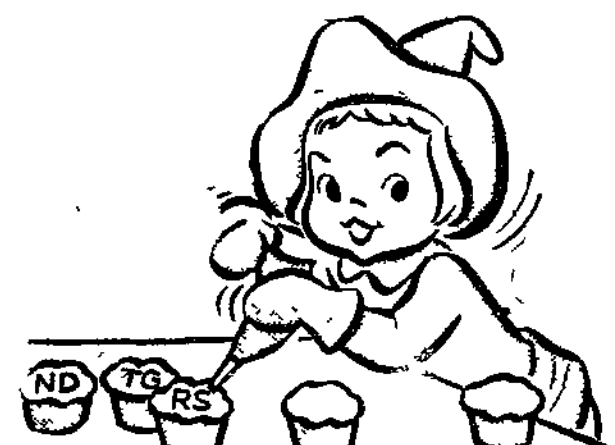

This whole episode gave support to opponents of the bill. It's bound to make Democrats and Republicans who'd like to vote for it a little self-conscious. No one now sees a rosy future for the bill.

Navy Divers Searching For Lost Nuclear Arm

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—Navy divers are searching off the Georgia coast for part of a nuclear weapon that was dropped into the Atlantic from a B47.

"There is no danger of explosion or radioactivity," the Air Force said.

A statement released by Hunter Air Force Base at Savannah said the bomber jettisoned part of the weapon after a collision with an F86 Sabre Jet Feb. 5.

The weapon was not capable of a nuclear explosion, the statement said.

The pilot of the Sabre Jet parachuted to safety. The bomber was landed by its three-man crew at Hunter AFB.

For the Petite: Chic Clothes

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—It used to be downright impossible for the petite woman to find clothes that were chic.

But increasingly, there's a realization on the part of designers and manufacturers that there are many small women who like smart clothes. Their clothes must be far shorter from shoulder to waist than the corresponding misses' sizes. They must also be proportioned differently in order to look well.

Proportion is, in fact, the whole secret of successful petite sizes. Prints need to be smaller and more delicate than those used for regular sizes. Petite fashions need trim lines to look well. Belts are narrow, shoulders gently rounded, full skirts gathered gently over the hipline and straight skirts cut with subtle shaping.

Andrew Arkin well understands the secret of successful petite fashions. We show here two designs from his spring collection, one with a full skirt and one with narrow lines.

The full-skirted dress (left) is a floral print silk surah in melon. The neat little line jacket has rounded shoulders, is lined in the dress print. Sheath dress and jacket (right) are done in black and white hound's tooth check silk surah. The jacket is semi-fitted; the sheath is fitted and belted. Jacket has a bright orange silk lining.

Forest Co. Plans Livestock Forage Crop Day Program

Forest County farmers have scheduled a county-wide Livestock Forage Corps Day program on Tuesday, February 18, in the Courthouse at Tionesta, according to an announcement by County Agent Russell M. Smith.

The forenoon program beginning at 10:30 o'clock will be devoted to efficient production of beef cattle, sheep and swine.

The meeting will open with the showing of color pictures of livestock taken on Forest county farms by County Agent Smith. Tom King, livestock extension specialist from Pennsylvania State University, will then give recommendations on feeding and management of beef cattle, swine and sheep. A question and answer period will conclude the morning program.

At 1:30 o'clock, the afternoon program will begin with local pictures of forage and pasture crops taken by Smith.

"How to Get and Maintain Good Stands of Alfalfa, Trefoil and Other Forage Crops" will then be discussed by John E. Baylor, Penn State extension agronomist. Baylor's second topic will be "Grass, Legume Varieties and Combinations to Fit Your Needs."

Next will be discussion of questions raised on grass, legume forage and pasture crops. Ribbons won at the North-western Pennsylvania Hay

Perk Up With Something New

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

THIS is the time of year when beauty seems to bog down. Spring is on its way but it's still some distance off. The fun of the holidays has evaporated, leaving us all with a let-down feeling. Winter wardrobes look shabby and droopy even though they're really not.

So this is the time for a new point of view. This is the time for a new hairdo, a new shade of lipstick, a brand new perfume. It's the time to experiment with color, to buy a new dress or a hat or a scarf, anything that carries just a hint of spring. It's the time to try giving yourself a facial or a pedicure or to wear eye shadow for evening if you've never done it before.

It's a time for looking forward, to anticipating the good looks of an arm, the feet crossed at the ankles, the head hunched forward between the shoulders all tend to add years to a woman's appearance.

For the woman with dry skin, a bit of foundation under her make-up during the winter months is essential. It should go on regularly each morning before the powders. The reason for this is not only that foundation lends a glow to the skin; it also protects. It forms a film against the ravages of wind and cold, sleet and snow and keeps the skin from getting that dry, crawly look and feeling.

At night, the protection will take the form of a rich night cream which does its work while you sleep. . . .

Gestures can do much to make a mature woman look far older.

Glasses perched on the end of the nose as you peer at newspaper or book put you in an age class with Whistler's mother. Walk with a shuffling step and dejected thrust out if you want to age at least 15 years. Hands on hips or arms folded make you look not only older but completely graceless.

Yet all of these are gestures that women (and not just mature women but young women, too) can be observed making every day. With such gestures, they rob themselves of the lovely illusion of grace which is the very essence of beauty.

Show will be presented to Allen Allio, Lloyd Allio and Glenn Shaffer, Mervyn Yeane and J. R. Allio, Forest County winners in the five-acre Pennsylvania Corn Club contest also will receive merit ribbons.

High School Notes

The National Honor Society will meet after school Monday in the auditorium. All members must be present or excused by the adviser personally.

The cast for "Fiddler on the Roof" will rehearse in the auditorium at 7 tonight. "The Dancers" and "The Monkey's Paw" will not rehearse this evening.

Tonight at Beatty Warren will wrestle with Eric East for sectional honors. Preceding the match will be a boy-girl gymnastics exhibition scheduled for 7:00. Everyone is urged to attend.

Farmers' Institute at Youngsville Saturday

Second in the series of Farmers' Institute meetings will be held at 1:00 p. m. tomorrow in Youngsville Grange Hall. O. C. Trutt, county farm agent, reminds that these sessions are arranged for all rural people of Warren county by Pomona Grange and the Agricultural Extension office.

Burt Horne, agricultural engineer from Penn State University, will speak on "Machinery and Quality Hay." Emphasis will be on field operations and adjustments that affect the making of high quality hay, including hay drying, with unheated air and with heat. Merrill Cheney, director of Dairymen's League, will discuss "Milk Marketing Orders."

Britain Develops More Advanced Ballistic Rocket

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced today it is developing a ballistic rocket more advanced than the Americans now possess and is designing it for launching from underground sites.

The white paper said the agreed Defense Ministry said this weapon "is being developed on the highest priority in close cooperation" with the United States.

The white paper said the agreement under which American intermediate range ballistic missiles will be located in Britain "will be completed shortly."

Regarding the relative strength of the West and the Soviet Union, the document said: "Russia's successful launching of artificial satellites is evidence of her remarkable progress in rocket development. But it should not be thought that this has upset the balance of military power."

The government said balancing fears in East and West of mutual annihilation make a world war unlikely "for another generation or more."

The white paper said if the Soviet Union launched a major attack on the West, "even with conventional forces only," the Western powers "would have to hit back with strategic nuclear weapons."

The Soviet Union, for geographic reasons, is more vulnerable to rocket attack than are the Western powers, the government said, explaining: "The overall superiority of the West is like to increase rather than diminish as a consequence of the advent of medium range ballistic rocket. These weapons, against which there is at present no answer,

Zavada Quads Celebrate 10th Birthday Saturday

LATROBE, Pa. (AP)—The Zavada quadruplets, who fought for survival after their birth in 1948, celebrate their 10th birthday Saturday.

National attention was focused on the quads—three girls and a boy—for the first few months of their lives because of their small size. The heaviest weighed 2 pounds 10 ounces; the smallest tipped the scales at 1 pound 2 ounces.

The children are hale and hearty though smaller than most 10 year olds.

"You'd never know to see them now that they had such a struggle," said their mother, Mrs. Andrew Zavada. "The neighbors and their friends accept them as though there was nothing unusual about their birth."

The children — John, Barbara, Bernadette and Anna Mary—are fourth grade students at St. Vincent's parochial school.

The Zavadas have two other children, Larry, 15, and Frances, 8.

sylvania has 435,000 unemployed and about 250,000 persons on relief.

At Harrisburg, the Department of Public Instruction declined to identify the 35 school districts that may be asked to push plans for school construction in connection with the job development program.

It said a check is needed on just what needs to be done to spur the plans and that naming the school districts would unfairly put them on the spot for conditions over which they may have no control.

Truck Driver at Oil City Is Held For Wife's Death

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—An unemployed truck driver was held in the Oil City jail today in connection with the death of his wife.

Police Chief Philip F. Chelch said Wilbur W. Sailer, 38, will be charged with homicide in the death of his 43-year-old wife, Thelma.

Mrs. Sailer's body was found yesterday in a bed at the home of her mother, Mrs. Etta Moate. She had been staying with her mother the past few days. Sailer had been living with an aunt in Meadville.

Coroner Maurice Dinberg of Venango County said Mrs. Sailer had been strangled.

Sailer went to the county jail at Franklin yesterday morning and asked Sheriff John Cunningham to check on his wife.

Oil City police, notified by Cunningham, went to the Moate home and found the body. Mrs. Moate had been unaware of her daughter's death.

light in his mirror, but that he was able to overtake and pass the lead vehicle at the top of Kiantone hill.

When Pangborn stopped for the Akeley stop sign, he said Zaffino pulled in front of his car and walked back. After a short conversation Zaffino punched him in the nose as he sat in his car, according to testimony. When Judge Flick asked Pangborn if any hard words had been used he said "No. In fact such nice language was used I was surprised to get hit." Said the judge "I don't blame you."

However, Zaffino gave a somewhat different version of the incident. He said he stopped, walked back, and asked: "What are you trying to do—kill us all?" (He had three passengers with him.) Then, said Zaffino, Pangborn answered: "Buddy, when I want to get by, I get by." At that point the conversation ceased.

Zaffino testified that he was driving slowly because of weather and road conditions when the claimant tried to pass him as both headed south from Stillwater. He stated that snow piled on both sides of the road "would have made it a squeeze" if anyone had tried to pass at that point.

When Pangborn stopped and rolled down the window, said Zaffino, "I didn't know whether he was going to hit me or what. I didn't know what was going to happen," Zaffino shrugged, "so I hit him." He told of how Pangborn kept playing the spotlight on his inside mirror and when that was redirected the claimant moved the beam to the outside mirror.

Judge Flick, during his summation of testimony, said that he agreed that the driving antics of younger persons could be very "irritating" at times. However, that was no justification for assault.

Summing up his part of the testimony, Defense Attorney C. Henry Nicholson asked that the court not be swayed by any personal "animosity by counsel toward the defendant." Attorney Nicholson said he came in to court prepared for a cash settlement but that claimant's Attorney Harold Hampson did, in effect, have it in for the accused.

Lawyer Hampson immediately denied this charge, adding that in his opinion the breaking of a person's nose was a serious offense. He added that since the onset the claimant had not been interested in money but in punishment.

District Attorney Samuel F. Bonavita at this time interceded between the two with his interpretation of the facts.

When Zaffino appeared before the bench, Judge Flick noted he was not finding him guilty because his nolo contendere plea was the equivalent of that. After the hearing ended, Attorney Nicholson was assured by the court that no charge of guilty would be placed on the record.

Court recessed until 9:30 a. m. Friday when a driving during suspension case will be heard.

appreciation dinner for House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts. In soliciting potential ticket-buyers, oilman Porter said Martin had helped pass a natural gas bill in 1955 and that Martin's aid would be needed to push through a similar measure this year.

The bill would exempt gas producers from direct federal regulation, but would continue Federal Power Commission control of interstate pipelines. The 1955 bill, which followed generally similar lines, was vetoed by President Eisenhower on grounds certain segments of the oil-gas industry were "arrogant" in lobbying for it.

The White House, Martin and GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn all have disavowed Porter's appeal.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market steadied today, making small gains after a string of successive declines. Early trading was quiet.

Drugs and tobacco continued to advance. Steels, rails, aircrafts, oils, radio-televisions and airlines were on the upside. Motors were slightly off.

Key stocks rose from fractions to around a point. There were a few small losers.

Brokers said the market was entitled to a technical rebound in view of its consistent losses recently. At the same time, the tone of business and economic news was improved. The background included the two billion dollar program for Post Office improvement. ICC permission for selective rail freight increases and forecasts of higher outlays for heavy construction.

Department to prosecute Schwartz. He said the former counsel had violated federal law by removing certain papers from the committee's offices. Schwartz called them "personal working files" and took them after his dismissal as committee counsel.

The public hearing to ask that Schwartz explain his charge of a money payment to an FCC commissioner opened in a big and crowded committee room amid signs of tension and nervousness.

The subcommittee, a branch of the House Commerce Committee, first met in the Commerce room because the subpoena delivered to Schwartz had told him to report there. Then the hearing was shifted to a larger chamber, which promptly filled with spectators.

Schwartz, a 34-year-old New York University law professor, had hardly settled into the witness chair before he was asked to tell what case was involved in his charge of the payment.

"I referred to the Channel 10 case in Miami," Schwartz replied.

Schwartz said the files on the case were among the papers he removed from the committee office. He gave the papers to Sen. Morse D-Ore who later returned them to the committee.

Schwartz said he believed the papers were in the "large suitcase." As returned to the committee by Morse, the papers were in a large suitcase monogrammed "B. S.", a large suitcase and a carton.

New Kind of Wrought Iron Placed on Market

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A. M. Byers Co. put on the market today a new kind of wrought iron described as the most significant development in the history of the metal.

This description was given at a news conference yesterday by B. M. Byers, president of the Pittsburgh firm. It is the world's largest maker of wrought iron products.

The improved product, known as 4-D wrought iron, is at least 25 per cent more resistant to corrosion than standard wrought iron, the company said.

It also noted that the new wrought iron, developed after 17 years of research, has greater uniformity and better physical and mechanical properties.

The key to manufacture of 4-D wrought iron is removal of more oxygen from the base metal—highly refined iron—to make it purer for processing.

It costs more to produce 4-D wrought iron, A. M. Byers said, but it sells for the same price as the standard product. At present wrought iron pipe sells for about $360 a ton, the price varying according to pipe size and type.

A. M. Byers has plants in Pittsburgh and Ambridge.

Six in Erie Family Are Rescued in Blaze

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Six members of an Erie family, including four young children, were rescued early today from a fire that heavily damaged their home during zero temperatures.

Firemen raised ladders to the top floor of the two-story house and carried down Mrs. Ralph Fiero and her children. She is a polio victim and weighs 215 pounds.

Fiero, an amputee with two artificial legs, crawled down the front stairway after his wife smelled smoke on the second floor. He burned his hand slightly. One of the children, 12-year-old Janet, was treated for smoke inhalation. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Goal for Red Cross Fund Drive Is Set at $26,300

Wendell F. Peterson, campaign chairman for the 1958 fund drive for Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, Chapter, American Red Cross, announces the goal for this year's campaign is $26,300. In making this announcement, he advises that the American Red Cross is launching a long-range, bootstrap operation to rebuild its disaster reserve, depleted by what General Alfred M. Gruenther, American Red Cross president, calls "The worst disaster cycle in Red Cross history."

In making this statement General Gruenther explained "In the two years between July 1, 1955 and June 30, 1957, the Red Cross spent about $51,000,000 for disaster relief. This figure does not include the nearly $3,000,000 for help to victims of Hurricane Audrey which swept the Gulf Coast of Louisiana and Texas at the end of last June.

"Providing aid to the victims of floods, hurricanes, tornadoes, and other disasters during this period all but exhausted the organization's disaster reserves—funds set aside to be used in event of a national calamity. As a result, the Red Cross Board of Governors decided that the reserve should be rebuilt by asking the American people to help each year."

Mr. Peterson points out that, in addition to requirements of the local chapter for Red Cross activities within Warren county, people of the county are being asked to assist in the long-range program of rebuilding this reserve.

In addition to announcing the 1958 campaign goal, Mr. Peterson has named division leaders who will aid him in spearheading the campaign. Raymond Stein is heading up the commercial division and Edward A. Ryberg is in charge of the industrial division. The special gifts division is in charge of James T. Torrance and the special groups division is headed by William R. Walker. The borough residential division, which makes the house to house campaign, is in charge of Mrs. H. E. LaPoint and Gurney R. Ball is responsible for the county residential division. Campaign publicity is being prepared by Harold E. LaPoint.

Helpful Information About Golden Gloves and "Rocky"

Warren residents seem uncertain about the circumstances surrounding Rocky Gerarde's disappointing outcome of the Golden Gloves this past week in Pittsburgh. Following is some helpful information that we hope will help clear up the matter:

Golden Gloves officials and A.A.U. have divided the tournament into these classes—16 and 12 year-olds, 112 pound class to heavyweight, no matter how many fights the boxer may have had; novice division from 3 fights and under for 18 year olds and up, all weights; and an open division for 18 year-olds and up who have 4 or more fights. Since there were no fights available for Gerarde's particular division, he was held back by A.A.U. ruling of entering another division.

Monday's final championship bouts will be comprised of 24 bouts (48 fighters) including Rocky Gerarde. His opponents were not available when Times-Mirror contacted Pittsburgh.

Sunday when it was known that Rocky would have to fight the 57 middleweight champ, the camp's manager came up to Joe Fazio and told him he'd better take his boy back home and get him in shape because his boy was tough. Joe replied, "My boy's tough, too, and he can handle himself. He fights with his gloves on!" Joe related that the manager just wanted to get Rocky over-worked and over-tired for Monday's bout.

Rocky's training in Pittsburgh consisted of 2 four-minute rounds with the heavy bag; 2 skipping rope; 2 shadow boxing; and 2 four minute rounds sparring around with heavy-weight Dave Brown of Meadville. Rocky also worked out on a bicycle-type apparatus and a platform with rollers on. "You should see Tom go on that one!" Rocky commented.

Louis Severo is Brown's manager and he fought one of Warren's better fighters in his heyday, Ray Collins. Severo said that Collins was one of the toughest boxers he ran into. Brown has been doing sparring work with Harold Johnson in Philadelphia. Johnson is getting in shape for the light-heavyweight championship bout with Archie Moore.

Rocky wasn't the only one disappointed with the Gloves Tuesday night, Brown had been examined by the doctor, and passed, and had even went as far as to have his hands bandaged. And to his amazement, after three fights had been completed, he was informed that he had drawn a bye!"

Fazio and Gerarde had the honor of meeting Fritz Zivic who took the lightweight championship away from Henry Armstrong. At the time, Armstrong was holder of the welter-weight and middleweight titles, also.

Not all their time was spent concentrating on boxing. Fazio and Gerarde, along with Brown and Severo, went to the school for the blind in Pittsburgh where the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Valone is enrolled. Joe took along a box of valentine candy for the lucky miss, "and made her laugh and feel good," as Fazio put it. "She really enjoyed having us there," he added and said that Brown really took a liking to her (Brown is a strapping 6'2" colored boy.)

Speaking of Sports

In the second bout of the Dapper Dan Golden Glove tournament in Pittsburgh, a "king" was dethroned and another was placed on the title shelf. Lightweight Champion Don Young lost his championship title to Charles (King) Williams, who has made a campaign to regain the light heavyweight title a life work. Williams started fighting in the tournament 11 years ago and won the light-heavy title in 1951, and has been trying ever since to regain it.

Basketball Congress Finals in Pittsburgh

Pennsylvania State finals for National Basketball Congress, an organization for Independent Teams and approved by National Collegiate Athletic Association, will be held this year at the beautiful Y. M. H. A., Bellefield avenue, Pittsburgh, March 15-16.

Winner and runner-up will be eligible to compete in the "World Series of Independent Basketball" at Kentland, Indiana, March 28 to April 5.

Champions only will receive part of traveling expenses to Kentland Meet. Champions and runners-up are slated to receive trophies and the ten players picked on All-State Team will receive All-State Certificates.

Interested teams are asked to contact Pennsylvania State Commissioner William U. Hoyle, P. O. Box 289, Sharon, Pa.

Fun at Beaty Gym Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joey Giardello won a fight here last night but the fourth-ranking middle-weight will need to be a lot sharper if he plans to mix it up with tough Carmen Basilio or aging Ray Robinson in the near future.

The 27-year-old Brooklyn-born Italian won a unanimous 10-round decision over Franz Szuzina, a tough German mauler. The verdicts of the referee and two judges read 43-44, 49-41 and 47-45.

After winning the first two rounds handily, Giardello seemed to crawl into a shell. Through the third, fourth and fifth rounds, Szuzina, 27, banged Giardello with both hands and appeared on the verge of turning in a major upset.

He had Giardello bleeding from a cut above his left eye and another across the left cheek. But Giardello managed to find the range with long right hands and solid combinations in the late rounds. He piled up enough points for his 75th win against 13 defeats, 5 draws and 1 "no contest" decision.

The victory boosted Giardello's winning streak to 15 straight and kept alive his hopes of a summer title fight with the Basilio-Robinson winner.

Public Is Invited To Attend Parents' Night at Beaty

The Warren High School Varsity wrestling team will complete their season tonight against the strong Erie East squad. The Lettermen's Club has on tap a very interesting program for this occasion. The public is invited to attend not only to enjoy a top notch tumbling exhibition but what appears to be one of the most exciting wrestling matches of the season. Erie East has one of the better wrestling teams in Erie and the Dragons will have to be on their toes for tonight's match.

John Colvin, a regular starter for the Warren grapplers, may be out due to intestinal flu. Also Larry Campbell, the Dragon 103 mat star, injured his arm during this week's workouts but it is believed that he will be one of the regular starters. All of Campbell's wins this year have been by falls and if Larry is able to score a fall this evening he will be the only boy from Warren High School to have ever accomplished a feat of this nature.

Tonight will end the wrestling careers of four senior varsity grapplers: Dick Campbell (133 pounder), Denny Platt (145 pounder), Jay Benze (165 pounder), and Ron Bowen (185 pounder). They will don the old Blue and White colors of Warren for the last time tonight when they will wrestle their last scholastic match for the Dragons. Denny Platt and Jay Benze have been elected by their team members as this year's honorary captains and they will captain tonight's team.

The matmen have been working very hard this week and are in excellent condition and in high spirits for this occasion and will be out for win number six against three setbacks.

The tumbling exhibition that has been planned could not have been accomplished without the able assistance of Miss Phyllis Putnam and the bandman himself Harry Summers, according to Coach Hal Miller. The Hi-lights of the tumbling exhibition will be Jerry Crouse, a gymnast from Slippery Rock State Teachers College, when he will perform some of the more intricate movements in tumbling. The boys and girls taking part in the tumbling and gymnastic exhibition will be as follows: Linda Dasher, Donna Dobbler, Nancy Goodwill, Sue Lawson, Pat O'Hara, Linda Whitehill, Don Anderson, Alan Burkle, John Carter, Tom Fadale, Marshall Fieldman, Ran Lauffenburger, Dean Lester, Denny Mong, Spear Proukoui, Lon Peterson, Denny Strandburg, John Sudal and Jim Tinnell.

The program tonight, according to the Letterman, is as follows:

6:30-7:00 Junior Varsity Intersquad match

7:00-7:45 Girls and Boys Tumbling and Gymnastic Exhibition

7:45 Varsity Wrestling match —Warren vs. Erie East

The Varsity lineup as follows:

1b. Class

95—Mike Long, a freshman, 2 wins and no losses

103—Larry Campbell, a sophomore, 6 wins and 1 loss

112—Tom Valone, junior, 6 wins and 2 losses

120—Gail Page, junior, 7 wins and 1 loss

127—Ray Kane, junior, 2 wins and 1 loss

133—Dick Campbell, senior, 2 losses

138—Bob Long, sophomore, 2 wins and 3 losses

145—Denny Platt, senior, 6 wins, 1 draw and 1 loss

154—John Mead, sophomore, 1 win, 1 draw and 3 losses

165—Jay Benze, senior, 3 wins and 4 losses

185—Ron Bowen, senior, 4 wins and 3 losses

The Parents to be honored are as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Benze, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Brant, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. John Colvin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Platt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Richard Kane, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Kells, Dr. and Mrs. T. K. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long, Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Blain Mead, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Mahaffy, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Musante, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Page, Mr. and Mrs. Claire Peterson, the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. John Sleeman, Mrs. Violet Valone, Mr. and Mrs. N. Giardello Not Too Sharp in His Win Over Szuzina

FLASHY BEARCAT LEADS CININNATI IN NCAA MATCHES

By DON WEISS

The Associated Press

Looks more and more as if the Cincinnati, Ohioans got away with about the tidiest hunk of college basketball talent around when they latched on to 19-year-old Oscar Robertson from the Indianapolis, Indiana, a year and a half ago.

Oscar, the brilliant Bearcat, startled 'em with Cincinnati's freshman team last year, excited the most blasé New York critics with a 56-point show a couple weeks ago... and last night? Well, Robbie just about clinched the Bearcats' first trip to the NCAA championships.

The former Indianapolis high school whiz scored 40 points as Cincinnati whipped Bradley 84-77 to open a 1½ game lead in the battle for the Missouri Valley Conference title. He scored 31 points in the second half, 13 of them in a five-minute stretch after Bradley, made the score 58-55.

Northern Juniors Nip Pleasantville, 19-17

Northern Area Junior High School team edged Pleasantville Juniors 19 to 17 in a close contest yesterday afternoon at Pleasantville.

Scoring remained even in each quarter of the game except the second when Northern notched two points and Pleasantville none.

Next Northern contest is at Corry Wednesday. The Junior Eisenhower has a record of three wins, five defeats.

—SO DON'T YO' WORRY, YORE FAT, ELDERLY LI'L HAID 'BOUT YORE PROMISE—

—I SUPPORT THET WHOLE MOB, EFAH IS KILT!!—NOT THET #4-YO' COULDN'T AFFORD IT—

I AM AN EXTREMELY WEALTHY MAN, YOKUM

COULD YO'?

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

By EDGAR MARTIN

GLORY BE! BOOTS IS ON HER WAY HOME!

HERE, TOO, MR. ROD! WORD FROM TH' CROWN PRINCE, I MEAN KING WILLIE! AN' HE'S THANKIN' US GOOD AN' PROPER.

WHATEVER WE DONE, IT MUST'VE BEEN AWFUL NICE OF US!

BUGS BUNNY

By LESLIE TURNER

BUGS'S PLUMBING

(WHOW!) I GOT INSIDE JUST IN TIME... IT'S STARTIN' T' RAIN!

NOW WHERE'S YER TROUBLE, PETUNIA?

FOLLOW ME, BUGS!

CAPTAIN EASY

By LESLIE TURNER

YOU'RE NOT TAKIN' ME BACK TO BURN IN TH' DEATH HOUSE!

I HOPE I'M NOT, SHANDY! I'D HATE TO SEE YOUR SIX WEEKS O' TRAINING WASTED! BUT I AM TAKING YOU BACK!

I WAS AFRAID THIS WOULD HAPPEN GOVERNOR! WE'VE GOT A DRAGNET AROUND THE AREA, BUT IT MAY BE TOO LATE!

IF WE DO CATCH SHANDY WARDEN, I CAN PROMISE YOU THIS... HE WON'T GET ANOTHER CHANCE!

MORTY MEEKLE

By DICK CAVALI

HELLO, MORTY—COME IN

WIPE YOUR FEET

NO LOUD TALKING THIS MEANS YOU!

NO SMOKING

JILL WILL BE RIGHT DOWN

HOW LONG WILL MRS. WORTLE'S MOTHER BE STAYING WITH YOU?

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By MERRILL BLOSSER

CAN'T YOU JUMP ACROSS?

NOT IN THESE SHOES!

AH, FAIR MAIDEN—REJOICE! BETWEEN YOUR ESCORT AND MYSELF WE SHALL DELIVER YOU ACROSS THIS MURKY MOAT!

OKAY, FRECK—LET GO NOW! I'VE GOT HER!

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

By WILSON SCRUGS

I CAN'T STOP SEEING JUSTIN. HE NEEDS ME, AUNT MARTHA. IF I LET HIM DOWN HE'LL QUIT SCHOOL. HE TOLD ME SO!

NOW REALLY, JILL!

MORNING AT A RAYBURN COLLEGE FRATERNITY HOUSE...

GOT THAT TWENTY-FIVE BUCKS HANDY DEEPLY?

HUH? DID JILL ACCEPT YOUR PIN LAST NIGHT?

NO, BUT ALL I HAVE TO DO IS GIVE HER ONE LITTLE PUSH AND YOU'VE LOST YOUR BET!

I CAN'T LET THAT GUY DO THIS TO HER! I CAN'T!

ALLEY OOP

By T. V. HAMLIN

MY GOODNESS, JACK. IT DIDN'T TAKE YOU LONG TO WIND UP YOUR AFFAIRS HERE IN KING GULCH

NOT AS LONG AS I'D THOUGHT—A DEAL I'D BEEN NURSING MADE GOOD AND THAT WAS IT

YOU STRUCK IT RICH?

BEYOND EVEN MY WILDEST DREAMS... WE CAN LEAVE FOR NATCHEZ ANY TIME YOU WISH

BUT IT'S SO FAR... HOW WOULD WE TRAVEL?

OVERLAND BY CARRIAGE OR BY CLIPPER TO PANAMA, THEN UP TO NEW ORLEANS

IS SOMETHING BOTHERING YOU?

I'M AFRAID THERE IS!

L'L ABNER®

By AL CAPP

EF SOME LAFTABLE MISTAKE DID HAPPEN—AN' SHORE-FOOTED ME WAS KILT—

YO' COULD TAKE GOOD CARE O' ALL MAH DEPENDUNTS, HUH, J.P. SWEETPANTS?

EXCELLENT CARE!!—I DON'T WANT TO SEEM BOASTFUL, YOKUM, BUT I EARN MORE IN A MINUTE THAN YOU EARN IN A MONTH—

DID YOU HEAR THAT, YOKUM? ??

YOKUM!!

ALLEY OOP

By T. V. HAMLIN

OH, I DON'T OBJECT TO NATCHEZ, JACK, BUT RATHER THE TRAVELING FROM HERE TO THERE

I ADMIT IT'S A LONG, ROUGH TRIP

I'M SURE DR. WORMBUG COULDN'T HANDLE IT FOR US VERY EASILY

WITH HIS TIME-MACHINE?

OF COURSE... SIMPLY BY THE TWIST OF A DIAL

WHY... THAT WOULD BE WONDERFUL!

BUT THE TIME-MACHINE LABORATORY IS CLOSED... AND THE DOCTOR IS ON A WORLD-WIDE SEARCH FOR EVIDENCE OF HIS FRIENDS' FATE

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

By EDGAR MARTIN

WHERE'S RUGGLES?

HE'S PICKING UP HIS WIFE AT THE AIRPORT, SIR!

...AND THAT'S THE WHOLE VILLAGOMAN PICTURE, ROD. DO YOU THINK I DID THE RIGHT THING?

OF COURSE I DO, STRIPPER

HERE THEY COME!

!! WHAT A SUPER VALENTINE BOOTS' COMING HOME WILL BE.

CAPTAIN EASY

By LESLIE TURNER

THE FURY OF SHANDY'S FIGHT TO GET AWAY HAS BOTH MEN EXHAUSTED, BUT EACH MANAGES ONE LAST DESPERATE PUNCH

WHILE HE'S OUT COLD I'LL TIE HIS THUMB TOGETHER WITH THIS STRIP O' TORN SHIRT

YOU MUST'VE BEEN IN AN ACCIDENT. WANTA LIFT TO A DOCTOR?

NO, TO THE STATE PEN! IT'S NOT TOO FAR. I'LL MAKE IT WORTH YOUR WHILE!

BUGS BUNNY

By LESLIE TURNER

BEAT IT, SYLVESTER, YA MOOCHER! I AIN'T OPEN FER BUSINESS, YET!

(YAWN!) I'M IN A HURRY, GUVNOR!

HEH, HEH! NOW'S MY CHANCE T' SNEAK AWAY FROM THAT BUM... HE'S ASLEEP!

GRAH

ONE WITH MUSTARD, SIRE... ON CREDIT, OF COURSE!

MORTY MEEKLE

By DICK CAVALI

BOY, DO I HATE TO GO ANYWHERE WITH YOU

EVEN FOR A SHORT TRIP, YOU TAKE THE WHOLE HOUSE ALONG

YOU'VE GOT EVERYTHING BACK THERE BUT THE—??

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By MERRILL BLOSSER

GOOD NEWS! DADDY'S GOING TO TAKE US TO THE SHOW!

OH, HAPPY DAY!

THE THEATER IS JUST ABOUT PACKED, FOLKS! I CAN ONLY FIND TWO SEATS TOGETHER!

TOO BAD! WELL, YOU KIDS HAD BETTER TAKE THEM. I'LL FIND A SINGLE!

OH, NO, SIR—SINCE YOU'VE BEEN GOOD ENOUGH TO PAY THE WAY I WOULDN'T THINK OF LETTING YOU SIT BY YOURSELF!

AND DON'T LOOK SO CONCERNED, SIR! WE'RE PERFECTLY COMFORTABLE!

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

By WILSON SCRUGS

AFTERNOON AT CENTERVILLE'S COGS AND ENDS SHOP

I'LL BE RIGHT WITH YOU, SIR.

IT JUST WANTED TO ASK YOU, IS JILL WARING AROUND?

NO, SHE ISN'T. WOULD YOU LIKE TO LEAVE A MESSAGE?

UH, NO, THANKS ANYHOW.

Publicity Release From Warren Co. Heart Association

Publicity release from the Warren County Heart Association.

Continual research and experimentation is believed by our Heart Association to be the practical answer to the control of heart and allied diseases. The major share of the money contributed by the people of Warren County is carefully expended in projects which are believed to be helpful in these investigations.

Only recently a new medication has been released for use in the treatment of high blood pressure. It is noted that a great share of the money spent in establishing the usefulness of this drug came through grants sponsored directly by the American Heart Association. In the past year the amount of money granted for such work amounted to over $6,000,000 and was made possible by funds raised throughout the United States in the campaign of February, 1957.

It is through continued public support that this work can be carried on and progress made in the improvement of treatment of heart disease.

Local Society Observes Nat'l Engineers Week

Next week will be observed nationally as Engineers' Week. In connection with this event, The Bucktail Chapter of The Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers held its February meeting on Tuesday evening at the Penn Laurel Motel.

Following dinner two enlightening talks were made. James H. Frantz, legal adviser and director of Personnel at United Refining Company, discussed the legal aspects of the "Professional Engineers and Registration Law". John T. West, Jr., executive secretary of The Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers, talked on the practical applications of this law as well as on the advantages of being a Registered Engineer.

It had been pointed out that the fundamental purpose for the enactment of the registration law was to protect the public from the practice of unqualified persons. In order to become registered, an Engineer must prove competence in his field by means of education, experience and written examination.

This interesting meeting was well attended by both members and guests.

CAUSE FOR ENCOURAGEMENT—With a saving of 1,128 lives over the previous year and the lowest death rate in history (5.9 per 100,000 vehicle miles), the 1957 traffic record was definitely encouraging, says the National Safety Council. A thirty states registered declines (see Newsmap above), while the national average was 3 per cent below 1956—this in the face of a 4 per cent rise in motor vehicle travel. On the sobering side, however, are the facts that 1,350,000 Americans were maimed in traffic accidents in 1957, and that the loss to the nation in money alone—for medical expenses, wage losses, insurance, and property damage—totaled $3 billion dollars.
